What is Vitiligo?

Vitiligo (leucoderma) is a disorder in which the skin loses its normal color. This happens due to altered process of melanin (pigment) formation or due to destruction of the melanin cells. The symptoms typically include milky white spots of various shapes and sizes on the skin. Some cases show affection of the muco-cutaneous junctions such as corners of the mouth and eyes and private parts. The spots may remain localized to the affected part or may spread to involve whole body but have no particular pattern of spreading. As much as about 1% of the world and 8% of the Indian population suffer from Vitiligo. It is important to note that Vitiligo is medically not a serious disease; rather it is more of a social and cosmetic disease.

Types of Vitiligo

- Vitiligo may be present either as some random spots on any one side of the body, which is called segmental vitiligo.
- It could also be present on both sides of the body at the same place, that is, on both knees or elbows, around eyes, ankles, etc. which is called Bilaterally Symmetrical variety.
- Vitiligo may also affect fingertips, lips, corners of mouth and eyes, genitals, etc., which is called Mucocutaneous junctions.

It must be noted that type b and c are more difficult to treat as compared to type a.

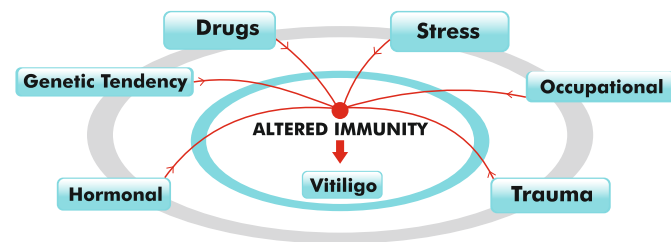

Scope and limitation of homeopathic treatment

Homeopathy offers very effective treatment for Vitiligo, especially in the cases where the disease is not extensive. Timely administered homeopathy treatment has potential to re-pigment vitiligo spots and control the spread. It may be noted that homeopathy has no cure to offer in the extensive cases, especially those who have large patches, finger-tips, genitals and lips affected.

Vitiligo Curability test: Check your chances of cure

Dr. Rajesh Shah has developed a Curability Assessment test. This online test allows you to check your chances of recovery by evaluating your symptoms. The test can be conducted at no cost, at: www.AskDrShah.com/app/vitiligo

Causes of Vitiligo

Major Theories

- Auto-immune
- Neural
- Autocytotoxic
- Growth factor defect

The exact cause of Vitiligo may not be fully known in every case. Major theories related with understanding the cause of Vitiligo are related with Autoimmune theory, Neural theory, Auto-toxicity theory, and Growth Factor defect related theory. Family history of hypothyroid, diabetes, alopecia areata or cancer is often observed in the patients with Vitiligo. Other triggering factors have also been shown below.

Homeopathic treatment for Vitiligo

Vitiligo results largely due to immunological and genetic factors, where the mechanism of color (pigment) formation is disturbed. The homeopathic treatment is aimed at correcting the internal process of pigment formation. It is administered to stimulating body's own healing process. The homeopathic medicines are in the form of nanoparticles, also recently understood as nano-pharmacological medicines; which are believed to work at root level by correcting the immune mechanism, which may be responsible in the process of developing Vitiligo. Homeopathic medicines are also likely to address the genetic predisposition.

The treatment in homeopathy is based on the individual case totality, whereby all the responsible parameters are evaluated and the medicines are determined.

Homeopathy uses natural medicinal substances in ultra minute quantity rendering a treatment that is extremely effective yet absolutely free from any side-effects. Homeopathic medicines may be taken with other conventional measures. Homeopathy is safe for babies, pregnant mother as well as for old age patients, and the medicines are not known to adversely interest with other medicines.

Experience with Vitiligo at Life Force

At Life Force, Dr. Shah and his team have treated and documented over 7000 cases of vitiligo from 180 countries in last 30 years. We have a rare experience of treating patients of Vitiligo on various skin types of patients including Asians, Americans, Africans, Europeans, Australians, Scandinavians, and more. In this process, we have learnt a lot about this disease and hence we are able to offer wise treatment protocol to our patients.

Dr. Shah's patented medicines

After having treated difficult and a wide range of patients of Vitiligo, it was observed that the regular homeopathic medicines had certain limitations. These insights allowed Dr. Shah to research and introduce some new medicines for Vitiligo, which have been found very effective. His new homeopathic medicines have been granted US, Indian and European patents; and have been found useful for Vitiligo and other diseases.

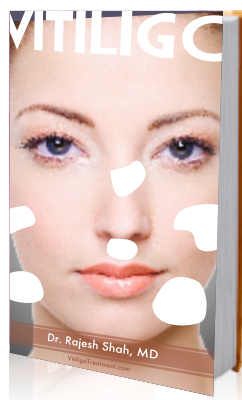

Dr. Shah's message to parents...

At Life Force, patients and parents approach for guidance and treatment for Vitiligo. Dr. Shah has a special message for the parents whose children have Vitiligo. In brief, he suggests that Vitiligo is not a serious medical disease and parents must understand this disease so that their approach helps children to have a right attitude toward dealing with Vitiligo. Please read and listen to his message on our website.

Testimonials

I have been giving my son Homeopathic medicines for vitiligo as prescribed. I was very much glad to see the improvement and began to develop faith in homeopathy treatment. I must thank you so much for the treatment and for having recommended the right medicine; and much to my happiness I don't see any new appearances on the skin as well.

-Dhanushen's Father, Utama Selangor D.E., Malaysia

My son Alberto Mendoza is in very good health conditions, he plays sports and the vitiligo patches are not very visible since he is taking the medication.

- Alberto Mendoza's mother, NJ, USA

In the first week the results were amazing. I was so surprised how fast the medicine worked. In the first month, one spot on my cheek had disappeared and in all the other spots the color started coming back. And the most important thing I don't have any new spots it's completely stopped. And I want you to know that all the spots on the corner of my lips have almost gone and I had spots on my lower lip it's completely gone. Thanks for your medicine and thank you for putting the smile on my face again.

-Shaza Aboushameh, CA, USAhad

I have been taking the medicine for only 5 weeks and I have to say I am noticing considerable repigmentation. The spots behind my knees have almost closed over already, the spots on my knees and elbow is uniformly browner, I do have stubborn patches on the inside of my wrists but I see that they are also no longer purewhite.

-Josephine Harkins, UK

Testimonials

While on treatment, I went to visit the dermatologist at the beginning of December. He was speechless; he and his assistance could not believe the progress that I had shown for vitiligo. They were extremely skeptical about the homeopathy and did not really believe that the homeopathy treatment that I am on is reason for such progress. I provided them with your email address along with your website. You probably received an email from him. His name is Dr. --. They still gave me a prescription, but I have not used it.

-J. O'Neal , United States

My son had large patches of vitiligo on his face. We tried conventional medicines with little help. Eventually we opted for homeopathic treatment. My son's face has almost cleared. Homeopathy has worked amazingly. Our entire family is grateful to homeopathy and Dr. Shah.

-Mrs. Jain and family , Mumbai, India

I had multiple vitiligo spots on my skin. I had used several creams and lotions but no help. I got treated by Dr. Shah's homeopathy treatment. All my spots have practically disappeared and I am free from vitiligo.

-Ms. Monica , India

The situation on the first four months was highly encouraging. Now the white spots in the body are not increasing but the extension of the spots on the hair covered part of the head has not been stopped. The spots on the nose are on control and the improvement process is satisfactory. There were so many white spots on the both legs but now more than fifty percent is cured and remaining are turning slowly into darker. The finger tips of the left hand is satisfactory but in the second four month the improvement on the right hand is not satisfactory.

-B. Pandey , United Kingdom

I am having some success with the medicines. My smaller spots of vitiligo are completely filled in. My larger ones are showing new color as well. My spots in the genital area are getting color back.

-C.B. , MD, United States

I respond to the medication good i started to see some change in some places and i am going to continue as long as i have to with this medication its great and i hope it passes soon. the white spots i had on my feet started to get smaller and to fill in with my skin color and i am hoping for it to be cured soon.

-A. B., GEORGIA, USA

I can see progress in the vitiligo on my hands. The spots have almost disappeared, there are only very small spots left. My general health is excellent.

-Jochem Tigchelaar - Huizen, Netherlands

I have been taking the medication for 7 months and have found that the Vitiligo doesn't appear as white as it used to. I find very little repigmentation, but I haven't noticed any new spots. Thank you again for your endless attention and support.

-K. J. A - Florida, United States
