What is Vitiligo?

Vitiligo (Leucoderma) is a disorder in which the skin loses its normal color due to altered process of melanin (pigment) formation or due to destruction of the melanin cells. The symptoms typically include milky white spots of various shapes and sizes on the skin. Some cases show affection of the muco-cutaneous junctions such as corners of the mouth and eyes and the private parts. The spots may remain localized to the affected part or may spread to involve the whole body but have no particular pattern of spreading. As much as 8% of the Indian population suffers from Vitiligo. It is important to note that Vitiligo is medically not a serious disease; rather it is more of a social and cosmetic disease.

Causes of Vitiligo:

The exact cause of vitiligo is not known but auto-immunity has been strongly suggested to be playing an important role. A family history of auto-immune diseases (such as diabetes, hypothyroidism, cancer, alopecia, etc.) is often observed in sufferers of vitiligo. Other commonly associated factors which either trigger or maintain the condition, may be summarized below:

Homeopathic treatment for Vitiligo:

Homeopathic medicines are aimed at stimulating body's own healing process. They work at root level by correcting the immune mechanism which may be responsible in the process of developing vitiligo. Homeopathy also addresses the genetic factor as an underlying cause and the homeopathic medicines are supposed to correct the genetic predisposition.

The treatment in homeopathy is based on the individual case totality, whereby all the responsible parameters are evaluated and the medicines determined.

Homeopathy uses natural medicinal substances in ultra minute quantity rendering a treatment that is extremely effective yet absolutely free from any side-effects whatsoever. Homeopathic medicines may be taken with other conventional measures. Homeopathy is safe for babies, pregnant mothers as well as for old age patients, and the medicines are not known to adversely interest with other medicines.

Scope of homeopathic treatment:

Homeopathy offers very effective treatment for vitiligo, especially in the cases where the disease is not extensive. Homeopathy can re-pigment vitiligo spots and control the spread. It may be noted that homeopathy has no role to play in the extensive cases, especially those who have their finger-tips, genitals and lips affected.

Homeopathy combined with Narrow Band Targeted Phototherapy:

Targeted Phototherapy is an advanced phototherapeutic system by which a blend of UVA and UVB light is delivered to the skin in optimal doses in order to stimulate rapid repigmentation of the skin. The specific wavelengths emitted by the system trigger increased melanin production by the melanocytes in the affected (depigmented) areas of the skin. The strategic combination of both Homeopathy and NB targeted phototherapy addresses the disease internally as well as externally. Targeted Phototherapy is an additional treatment option available at Life Force and it has been found to give good results in resistant cases when it is combined with homeopathy.

For further information on NB Targeted Phototherapy, check out our brochure on the same or contact our clinic staff or check: www.skin.ae

Testimonials:

I have been giving my son the Homeopathic medicines for Vitiligo as prescribed. I was very much glad to see the improvement and began to develop faith in homeopathy treatment. I must thank you so much for the treatment and for having recommended the right medicine; and much to my happiness I don't see any new appearances on the skin as well.

-Dhanushen's Father, Utama Selangor D.E., Malaysia.

My son Alberto Mendoza is in very good health conditions, he plays sports and the vitiligo patches are not very visible since he is taking the medication.

-Alberto Mendoza's Mother, NJ, USA

In the first week the results were amazing I was so surprised how fast the medicine worked. In the first month the one spot on my cheek had disappeared and in all the other spots the color started coming back. And the most important thing I don't have any new spots it's completely stopped. And I want you to know that all the spots on the corner of my lips have almost gone and I had spots on my lower lip it's completely gone. Thanks for your medicine and thank you for your putting the smile on my face again.

-Shaza Aboushameh, CA, USA

I have been taking the medicine for only 5 weeks and I have to say I am noticing considerable repigmentation. The spots behind my knees have almost closed over already, the spots on my knees and elbow are uniformly browner, I do have stubborn patches on the inside of my wrists but I see that they are also no longer pure white.
